Another violent Antifa suspect has been federally charged in Portland after allegedly injuring federal agents by violently grabbing their genitals and assaulting them.

Far-left queer activist August Dean Gordon (b. June 1994), of Beaverton, Ore., allegedly attacked the ICE building on June 29 around 3:14 a.m. by damaging the building's card reader. Gordon was photographed wearing black clothes, a mask and a helmet. One of the gloves he wore had reinforced knuckles. Antifa often use this tactic to cause serious injuries when punching people.

Responding federal officers and agents were allegedly violently sexually assaulted and hit by Gordon. Gordon is accused of grabbing the genitals of three men and kicking them repeatedly to attempt to break free.

Statement of Probable Cause

June 2025: Protests at the Portland ICE Building

6. Since June 4, 2025, protests have occurred at the U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) Portland Field Office located at 4310 S Macadam Ave in Portland, Oregon. During daylight hours, some of the attendees at the demonstration have harassed both ICE clients and employees by following them with cameras making disparaging remarks and threatening statements, including stating that that they know where the target lives or that they will find the target of the harassment. Many of these individuals dress in all black clothing, commonly referred to as "black bloc." Black bloc can prevent identification of individual actors by authorities. After nightfall, the attendees generally become more aggressive, damaging personal and government property, and throwing items toward federal law enforcement officers working at the building. The violence toward officers has included discharging pepper spray at officers as well as throwing rocks, trash, and bricks pulled from the ICE facility's driveway.

7. On June 29, 2025, at approximately 3:14 AM, a person could be seen pulling off the proximity card reader from a stanchion located on the ICE facility's driveway in a sharp jerking motion. The person in the video was wearing a short sleeved black shirt, a black helmet, clear goggles, a light blue surgical mask, a black glove on their left hand, black boots, black elbow pads, and black body armor that appeared to be taped on with black duct tape. I retrieved a short video of the crime occurring and a screen shot of the person's appearance while committing the crime appears below.

Reached for comment about the potential noise ordinance violations occurring nightly at the Antifa occupation, the Portland Police sent Ngo Comment this reply:

> The Portland Police Bureau recognizes that noise stemming from demonstrations in the South Waterfront can be disruptive to people living and working in the neighborhood. Please know we take these concerns seriously. At the same time, we are committed to protecting individuals' rights to express themselves peacefully. Our goal is to strike a balance between public safety, community well-being, and constitutional rights. PPB continues to monitor nightly demonstrations in the South Waterfront. If noise levels rise to a point that violate city ordinances or impact public safety, PPB will address it as resources allow.

The U.S. Attorney for the District of Oregon has been reached for comment. Gordon's case brings the total to 17 Antifa riot suspects federally charged so far since the insurrection began early in June.
